

Here are two bracelets, one big and one small, for your first day of school that is coming this Fall.

I'll wear the big one and think of you. The small one is yours, so you'll think of me too.

Wear it to school while you work and you play so you can have my heart while you are away.

